Military service and connection with the Club ran deeply in his family:

- His maternal grandfather, Lieutenant Colonel John McDonnell commanded the Queensland Volunteer Force, 1877-79.
- His uncle, Commander Walter Drake RN, was acting Commandant of the Queensland Naval Force 1891-1900. Drake is believed to have been a Founding Member of the Club and was President in 1893, 1895, 1897 and 1899.
- Norman's father, Lieutenant (Army) Arthur Pixley, was an early (and possibly a Founding) member of the Club.
- His uncle, Commander Sir Neville (Drake) Pixley MBE, VRD, who lived in Sydney, was a member of the Club from 1925 until (at least 1979).
- His son, Sub Lieutenant Anthony Pixley, was also a member of the Club.

Pixley was honoured for his service to the Community by his appointment as a Companion of the Order of St. Michael and St. George (CMG) in 1970 New Year's Honours (presented by HM the Queen in Brisbane on the Royal Tour of 1970); and as a Member of the Order of the British Empire (MBE) in 7th July, 1941.

His qualities were demonstrated in the many community activities he undertook during his lifetime.

He founded the Sea Cadet Movement, RANR cadets 1950-1973.

He founded the Queensland Division of the Navy League in about 1950 and was its President until 1969.

He had a deep involvement in the Royal Queensland Historical Society. A keen historian, he wrote and delivered more than twenty major historical papers to the society. He had a powerful influence on the society's administration and served as its President for many years, succeeding Sir Raphael Cilento in 1968. In addition to his presidential duties, his initiatives included the founding of the Norman Pixley Maritime Museum at Brisbane in 1954 and arranging the State celebration of the James Cook Bicentenary with a ceremony at Possession Island, Torres Strait, in 1970. For his work in the cause of history the society elected him a Fellow and made him an Honorary Life Member.

He also played a signal part in the formation of the National Trust of Queensland, of which he was a Life Member. He was active in the restoration of the Kangaroo Point Naval Stores buildings in 1988.

Through his business activities he rose to be President of the Brisbane Chamber of Commerce and was leader of the Australian Delegation to a conference of Commonwealth Chambers of Commerce in London in 1951.

As Honorary Consul for the Netherlands from 1948 to 1972 he became Dean of the Consular Corps in Brisbane, and in recognition of his services was made a Knight of the Order of Orange-Nassau by the Queen of the Netherlands in 1964.

Norman Pixley died in Brisbane on 4 January 1989.
